

Commitment to Confidentiality

UNM Ombuds Services provides independent, impartial, informal confidential services for faculty, staff and graduate students and their colleagues to voice concerns, evaluate situations, and identify options.

No visitor names will be included in any reporting required of this office to any person or institution nor will any mention of visitor names be made outside this office.

I pledge to guard vigorously the privacy and confidentiality of all who seek ombuds services. I will disclose no name or identifier of any individual who comes to this office or any part of our confidential communication. I will maintain no long-term records that will identify any individual.

Only when a visitor has given permission to do so or in the event of imminent risk of serious harm, or if required by law will I disclose information to other offices or individuals as needed.
